

A09219 • New York

Requires experts in professional fields to be consulted when developing and maintaining artificial intelligence technology for use in such fields.

Introduced

Risk: Medium

Sector-Specific

Last Action (Jan 07, 2026): referred to science and technology

Summary

This bill mandates that entities consult experts in professional fields when developing and maintaining AI technology for those fields.

Business Impact

If you develop AI technology in New York, you must consult relevant experts during development or face potential compliance issues.

Key Provisions

- Consultation with experts is required during AI technology development.

Compliance Checklist

- Engage relevant experts during AI development | Who: Organizations developing AI technology | Penalty: Potential compliance issues or reputational damage
- Ensure expert input is documented | Who: Organizations developing AI technology | Penalty: Potential compliance issues or reputational damage

Industries Affected

Finance

Healthcare

Legal

Public
Safety

Engineering

Technology

Education

Topics

Bill Sponsors

Name	Party	Role
WEPRIN		Primary
Brian Cunningham	Democratic	Primary
Mike Reilly	Republican	Primary

Official Source

<https://www.nysenate.gov/legislation/bills/2025/A9219>

Disclaimer: This document is generated by AI for informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult a qualified attorney for guidance specific to your situation. Information may not be fully up to date.