

SR490 • United States (Federal)

A resolution affirming the critical importance of preserving the United States' advantage in artificial intelligence and ensuring that the United States achieves and maintains artificial intelligence dominance.

Introduced

Risk: Low

Comprehensive

Last Action (Nov 06, 2025): Referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Summary

SR490 is a resolution affirming the importance of maintaining the U.S. advantage in artificial intelligence. Specific details will be provided once the full text is available.

Business Impact

If you use AI in your business, you must stay informed about U.S. AI developments to maintain your competitive edge.

Key Provisions

- Affirms the importance of U.S. advantage in artificial intelligence. Specific provisions will be detailed once the full text is available.

Industries Affected

Defense

Technology

Artificial Intelligence

Economics

General

Official Source

<https://www.congress.gov/bill/119th-congress/senate-resolution/490/all-info>

Disclaimer: This document is generated by AI for informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult a qualified attorney for guidance specific to your situation. Information may not be fully up to date.