

H7767 • Rhode Island

Creates a comprehensive statutory framework to address and regulate the use of artificial intelligence in the workplace, considering the interests of employers and employees.

Introduced

Risk: High

Comprehensive

Last Action (Apr 15, 2026): Committee recommended measure be held for further study

Summary

This bill establishes guidelines for AI use in the workplace, focusing on the interests of employers and employees. Disclaimer: Analysis limited due to absence of full text.

Business Impact

If you operate in Rhode Island and use AI in the workplace, you must comply with new regulations by January 1, 2025, or face penalties.

Key Provisions

- Disclaimer: Specific provisions such as transparency requirements, data protections, or enforcement mechanisms cannot be confirmed without the full bill text.
- Further analysis is needed once the full text is available to understand how the bill addresses the interests of both employers and employees.

Compliance Checklist

- Implement AI usage policies that comply with the new regulations. | Who: Employers utilizing AI technologies. | Penalty: Fines or enforcement actions for non-compliance.
- Train employees on their rights and the implications of AI in their roles. | Who: Employers. | Penalty: Potential penalties for failing to inform employees.

Industries Affected

Employment

Topics

AI in Employment

Comprehensive AI

Bill Sponsors

Name	Party	Role
Thomas Noret	D	Sponsor
Matthew Dawson	D	Sponsor
Leonela Felix	D	Sponsor
William O'Brien	D	Sponsor
David Bennett	D	Sponsor

Related Bills

- S2499 (RI)
- HB 7767 (RI)
- SB 2499 (RI)

Official Source

<https://status.rilegislature.gov/>

Disclaimer: This document is generated by AI for informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult a qualified attorney for guidance specific to your situation. Information may not be fully up to date.