

A1808 • New York

Relates to authorizing the commissioner of the department of transportation to enroll New York state in any federal pilot program or project for the collection and study of state roadway safety, infrastructure sustainability, congestion mitigation, transportation system efficiency, autonomous...

Introduced

Risk: Low

Amendment

Last Action (Jan 08, 2020): referred to transportation

Summary

This bill authorizes New York's transportation commissioner to enroll in federal programs for studying roadway safety and autonomous vehicle technology.

Business Impact

If you operate in the transportation sector in New York, you must stay informed about federal pilot programs affecting roadway safety and autonomous vehicles.

Key Provisions

- Authorizes the commissioner to enroll in federal pilot programs.
- Focuses on data collection for roadway safety and infrastructure sustainability.
- Includes autonomous vehicle technology in the scope of study.

Industries Affected

Transportation

Technology

Autonomous Vehicles

Topics

AI in Government

Autonomous Vehicles

Bill Sponsors

Name	Party	Role
William Magnarelli	D	Sponsor

Official Source

<https://www.nysenate.gov/legislation/bills/2019/A1808>

Disclaimer: This document is generated by AI for informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult a qualified attorney for guidance specific to your situation. Information may not be fully up to date.