

A8460 • New York

Authorizes the commissioner of transportation to conduct a comprehensive study on designation of private roads on the University at Buffalo North Campus and public roads in the town of Amherst for the purposes of autonomous vehicle technology testing.

Introduced

Risk: Medium

Study/Task Force

Last Action (Jun 03, 2020): print number 8460a

Summary

This bill authorizes a study on the designation of roads for future autonomous vehicle testing at the University at Buffalo and in Amherst.

Business Impact

If you operate autonomous vehicles in New York, you must comply with new testing regulations after the study is completed or face penalties.

Key Provisions

- Authorizes a study on the designation of roads for future autonomous vehicle testing.
- Identifies three specific testing zones in Amherst.
- Prohibits testing during the study period.
- Requires a review of local law enforcement's ability to supervise testing.
- Mandates a report to the governor and legislature within six months.
- Includes considerations for the installation of necessary technology for future testing.

Compliance Checklist

- Conduct a comprehensive study on designated roads for autonomous vehicle testing. | Who: New York State Department of Transportation | Penalty: Not specified.
- Publish regulations relating to future testing and safety. | Who: New York State Department of Transportation | Penalty: Not specified.

Industries Affected

Automotive

Transportation

Technology

Education

Topics

Autonomous Vehicles

Bill Sponsors

Name	Party	Role
Karen McMahon	D	Sponsor

Related Bills

- S6052 (NY)

Official Source

<https://www.nysenate.gov/legislation/bills/2019/A8460>

Disclaimer: This document is generated by AI for informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult a qualified attorney for guidance specific to your situation. Information may not be fully up to date.